Authorities Believe Capture May Solve Mysterious Crime.
Tony Donatell, the Prisoner, on Friendly Terms With Late Mrs. Burnham Other Clews

WAS FORMERLY EXAMINED AS TO HIS SANITY

Supposed Blood Found on Burnham's Shirt, Which He Wore Sunday Night, Will Be Analyzed, Although Case Against Surviving Husband Appears Weak—Probably Use Bertillon System in Tracing Identity of Ink Stains on Ax and Washtub Ignition of Lace Curtain at Burnham Home Explained Day's Developments.

Tony Donatell, an Italian laborer who rooms at 309 Cameron avenue, is the second suspect arrested in connection with Sunday night's murder of the Wayne and Burnham families.

Donatell was taken in charge by the authorities yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock after a number of other clews had been run out, and it is believed he may be able to throw some light on the wholesale crime. He is in the county jail and will be held pending a close checking up of his whereabouts between the hours of late Sunday evening and early Monday morning.

Donatell is about 40 years old and, it is claimed by the authorities, there is unquestioned information that he was on too friendly terms with Mrs. Alice May Burnham, one of the six victims of Sunday night's brutal crime. He has known the Burnhams for years.

Arthur J. Burnham, husband of the slain woman, made sufficient admissions to the authorities yesterday to give rise to the theory that the capture of Donatell is important, and one that may lead to some startling developments.

That he returned home unexpectedly one afternoon and found Donatell and Mrs. Burnham in a questionable attitude was the statement Burnham made yesterday when questioned about the relations of the two. Donatell, he said, tried to explain away his alleged actions by declaring that Mrs. Burnham had been hurt by a barbed wire fence and he was endeavoring to relieve the pain.

The theory that the murders may have been committed by a maniac dove-tails in to some extent, the authorities believe, with Donatell's case.

About a year ago the district attorney's office, through M. W. Purcell, caused Donatell to be investigated as to his sanity. His actions at that time were sufficient, it was claimed, to question his sanity. The man was examined by County Physician E. L. McKinnie, but his mind was not considered sufficiently unbalanced to warrant sending him away for treatment.

Other clews pointing the finger of suspicion at Donatell were run down yesterday.

C. Marshall, a workman at the Golden Cycle mill, and who passes by the Wayne and Burnham homes to and from work, saw a man shortly after midnight Sunday acting in a suspicious manner near the houses where the six murders were committed.

Marshall says the man was about as a handle of the ax. The Dale street murderer wielded will go a long way toward proving or disproving, as the case may be, the theories that link Burnham and Donatell with Sunday night's tragedy.

On the smooth handle of the weapon the police have found the imprint of a thumb, its outline traced in black hair-lines, and the aid of the Bertillon system may be invoked by the police to determine whether imprints of the suspects' thumbs correspond.

Three tiny finger prints were also found on a metallic washtub that hung outside the window at the Burnham home from which the murderer made his exit. In raising the sash a bottle of ink was spilled on the floor and efforts made by the intruder to wipe it up.

His fingers were stained black and the imprints on ax and tub, compared with similar marks made by the prisoners' fingers and thumbs, will

NO INQUEST YET; BURNHAM AT FUNERAL OF FAMILY

Hundreds crowded in and around the morgue yesterday afternoon, where the funeral of Mrs. Alice Burnham and her two children was held. The Rev. I. H. Kohler conducted the service, and interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

Arthur Burnham attended the funeral of his little family under guard of Jaller Charles Birdsall, and then returned to his cell in the county prison, wifeless and childless.

As the pallbearers were carrying out their burdens, Mrs. Hill, mother of the murdered woman, threw her arms about Burnham's neck and sobbed.

"He's innocent! Oh, I know he's innocent!"

Burnham was greatly affected and his eyes filled with tears. He did not ride with his relatives on the way to the cemetery, but was taken out in an automobile by Birdsall.

That jealousy and revenge are features that ultimately will play a conspicuous part in the solution of the triple murder now is generally believed by those working on the case.

Burnham Appears Guiltless.

Each day's development seems to bear whatever suspicion may have been entertained that Burnham had anything to do with the case. Statements of the resident physician at the Goodman home, where Burnham lived in a tent, are to the effect that it could have been almost impossible for the man to have come to Colorado Springs Sunday night unless conveyed there. The man's physical condition is such," Dr. Rutledge declares, "that he could not have made the trip so and from the city."

Yesterday, as on the day previous, Burnham steadfastly maintained that the authorities would have to seek elsewhere to find the murderer of his wife and babies and the family of Henry Wayne.

"I have no idea who committed the crime or why," Burnham declared in answer to inquiries. "I wish to God I knew. But I don't know—I don't know."

Statements of Murder Suspect

by Officers

It was a serious crowd that gathered in the office of Sheriff Birdsall yesterday afternoon, shortly after 3 o'clock, when Donatell was picked up at his home, 309 Cameron avenue, by Deputies Burns and Compton. Furthermore, it was a very secret one. Only the ones inside the private office, with the possible exception of one or two others, knew what was going on.

All the clerk and one or two visitors could tell was that Sheriff Birdsall, accompanied by other officers and an unknown man, entered the main office, passed through the door and into the interior office. There was scarcely a glance to either side by any of the men, only the usual hint "we want to talk a while" was given before the talk to the sheriff's private office was closed.

While only a few hints were given out as to what was going on, they were sufficient to indicate that the man Donatell was going through were grueling and "a supreme test."

The sheriff, after it was over, called it a "mere investigation."

Verifying Donatell's Story.

There was no room for an outsider. Once or twice during the afternoon a man would leave the private room, rush through the outer office, down the steps and away, never to be seen again during the afternoon. It was hinted that they were trying to "see that Donatell was handing them the right dope."

Only those on the inside are in a position to tell what was said and done. They will give out nothing, only after everything was over. Sheriff Birdsall was asked:

"Will you state positively that you did not find out anything that would tend to incriminate Donatell with the Burnham and Wayne murders?"

"No, I would not say that," came the reply. Then, after a pause, in which it seemed that he was through talking, the sheriff added: "Neither will I say that we did find anything."

But one thing that the officers seem to think important is an admission by Donatell during the investigation that last Friday afternoon he was engaged within half a block of the Burnham home in excavating for sewer work.

He said he did not know where the Burnhams lived, but that he knew that the home was somewhere in the vicinity.

"I don't know a thing about the murderer," is about the first comment

EL PASO COUNTY TO MANDAMUS STATE

Mandamus action probably will be brought before Judge Sheaf of the district court tomorrow or within the next few days, by El Paso county, through its commissioners, J. P. Madden, H. Hutchinson and B. A. Banta, against the state of Colorado, its treasurer and auditor, demanding that the county be paid the appropriation of $3,000 set aside by the state legislature for road work.

While the suit will be brought by El Paso county, every county in the state will be back of it financially, providing legal action is found necessary. At least that is what representatives from almost every county promised at a meeting of the county commissioners and county attorneys of Colorado yesterday afternoon in Denver.

The purpose of the meeting was to find if there is a way in which the state can be compelled to transfer the appropriation to another classification, so that it would be available for immediate use by the counties interested.

Large Attendance.

Although the state highway commission called the meeting only the first of the week, there was an overflow of county commissioners and county attorneys in attendance. The crowd became so large that it was necessary to change the meeting place from the highway commission rooms to the senate chambers. The county commissioners of El Paso county were in attendance.

Attorney General Griffith, State Treasurer Kenahan and State Auditor Ladd presented their views to the visitors.

"But the delegates were almost unanimous in their opinion that there is no other way out of the situation but to mandamus the state officials," Mr. Hutchinson said. "A committee composed of attorneys was named to go over the legal phases, and was given full power to act." Willis L. Strachan, county attorney of El Paso county, is on this committee. They will know by this afternoon at 4 o'clock if it will be necessary to bring the action. If so, undoubtedly it will be brought here in the name of El Paso county."

The Denver chamber of commerce and the Denver Real Estate exchange offered to employ an attorney and bear half of the expense, if a suit is necessary.

The El Paso county commissioners were notified yesterday that the state has made an apportionment of $3,000 for the county to be used in purchasing files and books for the keeping of records on the drainage and improvement work necessary on state primary roads Nos. 3 and 22.

PRESIDENT ENDS MICHIGAN VISIT

SPEAKS ON RECIPROCITY,
PEACE AND VETOES

Accuses Democrats of Playing
Politics and Scores
His Critics

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Sept. 21.—President Taft brought to a close his four-day swing through Michigan here tonight and headed for the west. His last day in Michigan found the president speaking and visiting in Grand Rapids, Battle Creek and Kalamazoo.

The Grand Rapids address was one of the president's set speeches on the tariff and his views of the wool, cotton and farmers free list bills. In Battle Creek, the president talked to the largest crowd so far on his trip.

The president's speech at Battle Creek was the first he has made on reciprocity since the Canadian parliament was prorogued several months ago.

"They say we want to annex Canada," said the president, laughing. "Gentlemen, my experience in this government has taught me that we have territory enough without enlarging our borders. I can say for one that the talk that the trade treaty was to facilitate annexation is bosh."

The president said he favored the abolition of all customs houses on the border line of Canada and wished that we had absolute free trade with the Dominion. Several times during the bitter campaign which preceded today's election, the venerable premier said that defeat of his party at the polls meant the end of his career; that he never would consent to lead a minority in opposition to a Conservative government. A Liberal membership of 53 from Quebec was cut down to 36, which, taken alone, seriously threatened the supremacy of the party. But it was in Ontario that the Conservatives won their greatest victories. Spurred on by appeals to patriotism and by the cry that reciprocity was the entering wedge for annexation, the Conservatives everywhere were defeated by larger majorities than have ever before been given.

Saskatchewan Liberals Lose.

That province which in the last parliament was represented by 36 Liberals and 51 Conservatives, will send a delegation to the next composed of 12 Liberals and 75 Conservatives. A notable feature of the defeat was the opposition's capture of two hitherto Liberal seats in Saskatchewan.

The results at 10 o'clock tonight, with a few of the distant constituencies estimated, were:

Province	Lib.	Con.
Ontario	13	70
Quebec	36	27
Nova Scotia	10	8
New Brunswick	8	1
P.E.I.	2	1
Manitoba	1	3
Saskatchewan	1	2
Alberta	0	6
British Columbia	0	6

Totals 131 131

Opposition majority, 50.

While Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the minister, was safe in two counties, the Conservatives made a great harvest of ministerial heads: 13 members of the Laurier cabinet sought reelection and seven of them were defeated.

Ministers Fare Poorly.

Minister of Finance Fielding and Minister of Customs Patterson, who made the reciprocity bargain with the United States, failed to win.

Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia, Mackenzie King, minister of agriculture, Sidney Fisher, minister of agriculture, George P. Graham, minister of inland revenue, and William Templeman, minister of state, were defeated.

The size of the proposed searching party will depend upon the recommendation of Sheriff Birdsall. The whole proposition will be submitted to him with the view that he is to head the work.

Owing to a lack of funds, neither the city nor the county is in a position to offer a reward for the capture of the murderer.

CANADA REFUSES TO ACCEPT RECIPROCITY

Laurier Government Suffers Overwhelming Defeat at Polls Conservatives Will Come Into Power With Heaviest Working Majority That a Party Has Ever Had

MONTREAL, Sept. 21.—The Laurier government and reciprocity suffered an overwhelming defeat in the Canadian elections today.

By a political landslide, the Liberal majority of 43 was swept away, and the Conservative party secured one of the heaviest majorities, upwards of 50, that any Canadian party has ever had. Seven cabinet ministers who had served with Premier Laurier were among the defeated candidates.

The Liberals lost ground in practically every province of the Dominion. Where they won, their majorities were small. Where the Conservatives won, their majorities were tremendous. Ontario, the leading province of Canada, declared almost unanimously against the administration and reciprocity.

Robert L. Borden, leader of the Conservative party, will shortly become the prime minister of Canada. He will be supported in parliament by a working majority of members far more ample for his purposes.

The government defeat means that the Fielding-Knox reciprocity agreement, ratified by the American congress in extra session, will not be introduced when the twelfth parliament assembles next month and that a revised basis of trade with the United States looking to commercial relations will not be possible in the immediate future. The Conservatives are committed to a policy of trade expansion within the empire and a closed door against the United States.

Although reflected in two constituencies in Quebec, the defeat of the Liberal party also means the retirement from public life of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who for nearly two decades had directed the destinies of the Dominion. Several times during the bitter campaign which preceded today's election, the venerable premier said that defeat of his party at the polls meant the end of his career; that he never would consent to lead a minority in opposition to a Conservative government.

R. L. Borden, solicitor general, who was regarded as a semi-member of the administration, also was defeated.

Although the majority of seats won by the Conservatives is over half a hundred the popular majority against the government and reciprocity is even more overwhelming. Where Liberal seats were retained or won from the opposition, it was generally by an exceedingly small margin. The Conservatives everywhere were defeated by larger majorities than have ever before been given.

Electors Moved by Sentiment.

The results indicate that the Canadian electors were moved by sentiment more than by material considerations. The Liberal speakers and the government party press, in appealing for the opposition's capture of two hitherto Liberal seats in Saskatchewan,

The results at 10 o'clock tonight, with a few of the distant constituencies estimated, were:

While Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the minister, was safe in two counties, the Conservatives made a great harvest of ministerial heads: 13 members of the Laurier cabinet sought reelection and seven of them were defeated.

The Conservatives on the other hand, while arguing against the economic advantages of reciprocity, dealt with emphasis on the sentimental considerations insisting that the eventual result of reciprocity would lead Canada from Great Britain to the United States. The people responded to that appeal.

Ontario, the largest province of all, in the most wholehearted way, and the other provinces, with the exception of Quebec, Alberta and Saskatchewan, shared less so. Even the prairie west, which was supposed to desire reciprocity above all other things, and where American settlers have gone in large numbers, did not go unanimously for the government.

Not only did he have a ready alibi, but the man was shrewd in answering the questions of the investigators, the officers say, with his apparent willingness to tell everything. He admitted that he had been very friendly with Mrs. Burnham, both before and after her marriage.

"I am not in a position to tell," Donatell said; "the last time I met her and we were together. It has been a long time, though. I did not even know where they were living. I was told that it was somewhere in the vicinity of where I was working last Friday, but I never investigated."

Donatell said that he was home all day Sunday and Sunday night. He retired about 9 o'clock, he said, and never left his bed. The officers are trying to prove or disprove his alibi.

the British parliament and might have made the position of the prime minister difficult.

There is no doubt that we have been decisively defeated, declared Sir Wilfrid Laurier early in the evening at Quebec. I gladly lay down the premiership, a burden which I have carried for 16 years. We believed that in making the reciprocity arrangement we had done something which would be great to the benefit of the people of Canada. The electors have decided otherwise and I bow to their decision.

Must Bow to Inevitable.

I regret that we have not been able to carry reciprocity, which I still believe would have protected the material advancement of Canada and would promoted the growing friendship between the United States and Great Britain. However, the country has spoken, we must bow to the inevitable and cheerfully do so."

The landslide was not expected by either side.

The Liberals were confident they would be returned with an increased majority for they believed that reciprocity would be most acceptable to the Canadian electors. While the Conservatives claimed they would have a majority, they did not expect it would be so large or that the general verdict of the country would be given so decisively. They feared that reciprocity would prove popular with the farmers of Ontario and the farmers and the fishermen of the maritime provinces, and while confident they would win the cities, they were dubious as to the result in rural constituencies. However, in Ontario especially, the agriculture vote went almost solidly against reciprocity and in the maritime provinces it did not prove to be the popular issue expected.

The farmers and fishermen of the east Dominion appear to have placed their veto upon the American market.

Independent of French Group.

The splendid majority obtained by R. T. Borden in the English provinces will make him practically independent of the French group for he has a working majority without them. The effect of this will be to minimize the Nationalist party which Mr Bourassa has been creating for eight years.

The great Conservative following which has been sent to M. Borden by the province of Ontario makes it certain that this province will dominate Canadian affairs for some time to come.

The retirement from public life of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, now nearing his seventieth birthday, soon will be announced and Liberal members of parliament remaining will be called upon to choose his successor. The defeat of so many leading cabinet ministers makes it difficult to foresee upon whom the choice will fall. Mr Fielding, Mr Graham and Mr Fisher had been spoken of as possible successors to Sir Wilfrid, but they have all been beaten.

The result of the election works to complete a disorganization of the Liberals that the Conservatives may remain in office for many years. The former Conservative government held office for 18 years and the Laurier government, which has just been turned out, followed with 15 years of power.

Victory for Manufacturers.

The verdict is looked upon as a triumph for protection and a victory for the manufacturers of Canada who opposed the government because they feared the removal of duties upon natural products would be followed by an attack upon the protection which Canadian manufacturers have enjoyed for many years.

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON

HAS NOTHING TO SAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The question which is tonight agitating political leaders throughout the United States is how their fortunes in the approaching national campaign will be affected by today's effect of Canadian reciprocity. It is evident that the replies will be as varied in character as were the political views of the factions that fought over the question during the special session of congress.

Official Washington closely read the returns from Canada tonight, but remained silent as the figures showed in showing the Laurier party had been defeated and reciprocity rejected. Acting Secretary Wilson of the state department declined to make any statement and there was no other high official here in a position to discuss the situation. An unofficial view was, that as Canada had rejected the agreement there was nothing for the administration to do but make the best of the matter.

That the reelection of the Canadian government will have a strong bearing upon the campaign of President Taft is no longer in doubt. Some of the old guard Republicans who supported the agreement, "against their better judgment" are saying that its defeat will strengthen the Taft administration by removing the only issue on which there was any disagreement with the president. Most of the insurgent Republicans oppose the agreement and they believed their position had been made much stronger by the result of the election in Canada today.

Recall Clark's Speech

There was no one here tonight to speak for the Democrats. A majority of that party in both the senate and house voted for the agreement and without their votes the Taft program for the special session would have failed. Some of the friends of the Canadian agreement do not hesitate to charge the Canadian defeat of the Laurier government to the "annexation bogey." One of the excuses for this issue was a speech of Champ Clark of Missouri, now speaker of the house, in which, while making a plea for a wider market and in giving his reasons for supporting the Canadian agreement, he said:

"I am for it because I hope to see the day when the American flag will float over every square foot of the British-North American possessions, clear to the North pole."

The Canadian press accepted Mr Clark's statement as a confession that the motive of the United States was to promote annexation. In reply Mr Clark explained that the remark was semi-jocular, although representing his personal desire.

KEEN DISAPPOINTMENT IS DISPLAYED BY TAFT

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Sept. 21.—President Taft heard the returns from the Canadian elections here tonight, while attending a banquet given him by the citizens of the city. He said: "I have just been informed that reciprocity has failed in Canada. For me, it is a great disappointment. I had hoped that it would be put through to prove the correctness of my judgment that it would be a good thing for both countries.

"It takes two to make a bargain and if Canada declines we can still go on doing business at the old stand."

There was much speculation here tonight as to what effect the result of the election will have upon the president's reception in the insurgent and agricultural states, which he will soon visit, and where he has been bitterly opposed because of his advocacy of reciprocity.

MILKMAN SAW BICYCLIST NEAR SCENE OF TRAGEDY

Bearing out the new theory of the possible connection of Tony Donatelli with the Burnham and Wayne murders, local authorities are working upon a story told by a milkman, who claims to have seen a suspicious looking character in the vicinity of the Burnham home Monday morning about 2 o'clock. He says that the man was upon a bicycle, and acting in a strange manner. The story connects, in a way, with the assertion made by an employee of the Golden Cycle mill, that he saw Donatelli on the streets at an hour later than the time mentioned by him as to when he retired.

An advance of 17 points occurred in raw sugar, making Cuban centrifugal, 96 test, $6.52, at which price 20,000 bags changed hands with more wanted. No change was made in refined sugar, but an advance is expected to follow the sharp rise in the raw article.

For the first time in 36 years, the entire list in the coffee market sold above the 12-cent mark. Active buying accompanied the advance, which represents a gain of 2½ cents over the low price of the season.

Dr. E. C. Hills, professor of romance languages at Colorado college, left yesterday morning for Cambridge, Mass., where he will give a series of lectures during the coming term on prosody and Spanish-American poetry. During his absence from the college the work of the department is being directed by Benjamin Woodbridge, who has just returned to this country after two years of study in France and Spain.

The Harvard exchange professor, Professor Albert Bushnell Hart, will not be at Colorado college till the beginning of the second half year in February. He will lecture on American history.

Professor Hills was at one time instructor in romance languages in Harvard university, and published a Spanish grammar in conjunction with Professor Ford of Harvard. His early work was done largely in French language and literature. He spent some time at the University of Paris, and later published a grammar of Canadian French. He has recently become interested in American Spanish, which is a new and almost unexplored field, and in this field he is said to be the leading scholar of the country.

Pikes Peak Floral Co. Wins Prizes at Colorado State Fair

In competition with florists from the entire state, the Pikes Peak Floral Company of this city was awarded 15 prizes out of twenty-three entries at the Colorado State Fair, held recently in Pueblo. Eight firsts and seven seconds were carried away by the local company, whose showing was particularly good in the prize bouquets, table decorations, mantel decorations and basket decorations, all of which were awarded firsts. The showing of the local company was exceptionally gratifying, in that the floral exhibits are one of the main attractions of the Fair, and all the leading florists of the state enter into keen competition for the prizes.

After physicians gave medical testimony relating to the causes and probable causes of the death of Thomas McGrath, in the hearing of the charge of murder against William J. Moore before Judge Sheafor of the district court yesterday afternoon, they were forced to touch upon questions of pugilism and the prize fight ring.

A jury was selected at about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and after the attorneys for both sides made their statements as to what they would attempt to prove, the taking of testimony was commenced. Court adjourned at 5 p.m. to continue again at 10 a.m. today.

Charles Page, an eye witness to the fight in the pool room on Huernano street, and John R. Rice, who taunted McGrath to his home following the blow, were among the first witnesses. They were followed by Dr. W. T. Gullion and Dr. E. L. McKinnie, county physician.

The most important testimony brought out during the afternoon, in the attempts made by the state to prove that it was a wilful murder, was a statement by Dr. McKinnie that he does not think that a man of Moore's build and apparent strength could strike a blow with his bare fist sufficient to fracture the skull. Dr. McKinnie's statement was bounded by previous testimony of John R. Rice, in which he described the manner in which McGrath and Moore were standing, and how the blow was delivered. This tended to show that a weapon of some kind was used.

Page said that McGrath and Moore were standing, facing each other. He testified that Moore had his left arm almost fully extended, and that he had only the benefit of a swing of the hand of about a foot to the temple.

"Judging from the position," Dr. McKinnie said in reply to M. W. Purcell, assistant district attorney, "it would be impossible to strike a blow with the bare fist that would be sufficient to fracture a man's head."

Then came the answers to questions pertaining to the prize fight ring, brought out by James A. Orr, attorney for Moore, in the cross-examination. Dr. McKinnie was asked concerning "the most effective blow," "a full swing" and "short jab." He had admitted, of where men's skulls had been fractured in pugilistic bouts, but he had never seen any of them.

A piece of the skull bone, taken from McGrath's head, was shown to the jurors and witnesses, and placed on file with the court as an exhibit.

"The fracture," Dr. McKinnie said in conclusion, "might have been brought about by a stone or any hard substance."

SAYS CHILDREN SHOULD BE CONVERTED BEFORE THEY ARE 12 YEARS OLD

That children should be converted and become members of the church before they are 12 years of age, was the assertion made by C. L. Dealy, a Sunday school field worker from Dallas, Tex., in a speech before the delegates to the El Paso county Sunday school convention, at the Asbury M. E. church, last night. His subject was "Evangelistic Work in the Sunday School." He pointed out the great benefit to be derived if the superintendent knew personally every child in his school and pleaded for a better system and a better class of work.

Miss Blanche Edgar, county missionary superintendent, made a short talk on "Missionary Spirit," in which she asked that the missionary spirit be instilled into every Sunday school in the county. She showed the help of missionary offerings, in the distribution of missionary literature, and in having regular missionary instruction. "People have no interest in a subject if they know nothing of it," is the way she accounts for the present lack of interest in the work. One Sunday out of each quarter set aside for missionary work and a complete missionary library in every school is the plan she proposes.

Dr. J. R. Robinson made an address on "Adult Classes." J. A. Van Eaton, who was to have talked on this subject, being ill. He divided his subject into six points, namely: the members of the classes should get to work and be able to show an increase in attendance of 50 per cent by January 1; a bible should be put into the hands of every pupil; definite class work should be taken up; definite evangelistic work should be followed; other lines of Christian work, such as visiting and giving financial aid, should be taken up; and one representative of each organized class should have a teacher in a training class.

A. N. Melton, secretary of the county association, made a short talk, asking that more interest be taken in the county work, especially by the superintendents.

Many more Sunday school workers from other counties are expected to arrive today to attend the meeting tonight. Tonight's program follows:

JEWISH HOLY DAYS BEGIN AT SUNSET THIS EVENING

As the sun sets today a New Year will be ushered in upon the life of Judaism—the year 5672. Ross Hashanah, the observance of which begins tonight, is the holy day which marks the anniversary of the creation of the world, according to the account in the Bible.

Services will be held at the new synagogue, 417 South Cascade avenue, tonight, tomorrow and Sunday. The Jews of this city have spared no expense in making their house of worship attractive and inspiring, and state it is their hope that this permanent house of God not only will be a credit to them but to the entire city as well.

As it was impossible to secure the services of a professional rabbi in time for these holy days, M. A. Novick has volunteered to speak. Tonight his theme will be, "The Awavne of Judaism," in which he will expatiate upon the significance of the holy days. Tomorrow he will speak on "The Immortality of Judaism," a theme dealing with the historical vicissitudes of the Jews, and on Sunday he will speak on "What the Jews Have Contributed to the World's Progress and Civilization."

FREDDIE WELSH IN SPRINGS; GOING AFTER MATT WELLS

Freddie Welsh, former lightweight champion of England, before Matt Wells, the present title holder, stopped off in Colorado Springs last night.

"Just here overnight, you know," the little British fighter aid at the Antlers. "and I'll leave for Denver early in the morning."

"I'm headed straight for New York where Tom O'Rourke arranging some 10-round bouts for me at the Garden. He's been after me for a month to challenge the winner of the Wells-Wells fight, and now that Wells has won I am only too anxious to get him into the ring again with me."

"Yes, you can say positively that my match with Champion Ad Wolgast headed on the coast for next Thanksgiving day, is going to come off as per schedule. All the forfeits are up, and so far as I am concerned, there will be nothing to stop it."

I left Los Angeles three days ago, because I want to get to New York and take on some of those 10-round bouts to keep me in form for my affair with the champion. I've been doing a lot of training on the coast and never felt better in my life."

I have Montana Dan Sullivan with me and when we get east we are going to try and get some matches for him with Salter Burke, Frank Klaus or any of the good middleweights. Sullivan has been with me in Los Angeles for the last month or so and we have been doing our training together.

We will stop in Chicago for a few days to see Billy Madden, and then go straight to New York. You may say that I am ready to meet any lightweight, and also that in my future ventures I will not lose through carelessness as I did in my engagement with Matt Wells.

So, the outcome of the Wells-Affett fight the other night was not a surprise to me. Affett is a great little fighter in his class, but he gave away too much weight to Wells. Abe is a top-notchler at his weight and inches, but 12 pounds is too much of a handicap.

Welsh already has received good offers to box Knockout Brown and Frankie Burns in New York, and he figures that these matches will put him in good trim for his championship battle with Wolgast next Thanksgiving.

THE PRICE WE PAY

ONE of the main causes for popular complaint against the protective tariff system as it has existed in the past, and still exists, thanks to the Congress that passed the Payne-Aldrich law, is that it enables American manufacturers to sell their products at home for higher prices than they get in foreign markets. That condition is the foundation of the demand for a tariff that will merely cover the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad and thereby place American and foreign manufacturers on an equal footing in American markets and protect the American consumer from the extortion to which he is now subject.

This condition has, in essential principles, an almost exact parallel in the situation regarding the transmission of packages and parcels both within the United States and between this and foreign countries. By the exercise of the same control over legislation which has enabled the great manufacturing industries to dictate import and export tariffs, the great express companies have succeeded in limiting the Government's package-carrying activities to parcels weighing four pounds or less, on which the rate (fourth class matter) is 16 cents per pound. The American citizen wishing to send a parcel weighing more than four pounds is compelled to pay the same kind of tribute to the express companies that he pays to the manufacturer who by virtue of Government protection, through the tariff, charges him more for a given article than a purchaser of the same product in Europe, for example, has to pay. It is one of the penalties the public pays for permitting special interests to obtain dominant power in the Government.

At the same time many foreign countries, free from such domination, have established the parcels post with rates that are not designed to pay fat dividends on millions of watered stock, and the United States is party to a treaty under which residents of no less than 29 foreign countries may send fourth class matter up to 14 pounds in weight through the United States mails at 12 cents a pound. For illustration, a man may send an 11-pound package from San Francisco to Rome, Italy, at 12 cents a pound, or $1.32, but if he wishes to send the same articles to New York only he must divide them into packages of not to exceed four pounds each and pay 16 cents a pound, or $1.76. A Japanese residing in New York can send an 11-pound package to a friend in Tokio, Japan, at 12 cents, but an American would have to pay at the rate of 16 cents a pound to send the same thing to a friend in a town ten miles away, and then would have to divide it into at least three packages.

We have a protective tariff that protects American industries at the expense of American consumers and to the benefit of foreign consumers. We have a postal system that protects the express companies at the expense of the American public and to the benefit of the people of other countries. The present condition of public sentiment assures the removal at an early date of the one source of extortion, and the public is rapidly becoming educated to the equally urgent necessity for removal of the other.

As an initial step, legislation such as was suggested by Senator Bourne of Oregon at the last session of Congress, limiting the postage rate within the United States to that charged for the transmission of matter to and from foreign countries, needs no defensive argument. Nor should any argument be necessary to convince the public at large that a parcels post system is not only a desirable but a sorely needed institution. Its introduction may change trade conditions, but its certain saving to the public of tens of millions annually that now goes into the groaning coffers of the express monopolies will far outweigh any possible objection to it.

At the coming session of Congress Postmaster General Hitchcock will recommend the establishment of parcels post service on rural routes, as a first step toward its general adoption. There ought to be such an unmistakable public sentiment in its favor that Congress could by no possibility withhold such legislation.

UNPURCHASEABLE ADVERTISING

IT IS doubtful if the citizens generally realize the importance of the advertising benefit that Colorado Springs and the state in general is receiving through the Dry Farming Congress here. Some of the funny men around Colorado Springs are still grinning over that very original and witty joke, which they manage to spring about once a day, that "dry farming is all right when you have plenty of rain," but the fact remains that this year the Congress has had the respectful attention of the leading newspapers of the land.

Daily, weekly, monthly, there have gone out to the magazines and newspapers facts concerning the Congress and the Women's Congress, and they have been printed. In many instances these have been sent by request. At times these press announcements have been artfully concealed, by dating them from other cities, but always they carried the dates of the Congress and the name of Colorado Springs.

A half dozen times during the summer the Associated Press has taken a few hundred words on the Congresses, and in this way the advertising has been carried into nearly every daily newspaper in the country. Colorado Springs could not buy that kind of publicity, not if it had millions to spend. All the money subscribed by the citizens of this town for the Congress up to date would not buy the page that appeared in Collier's Weekly on the sixteenth of this month.

Late articles have appeared in agricultural publications recently aggregating many thousands of words. Among these was the Farmers' Mail and Breeze, owned and edited by Arthur Capper, who is likely to be the next governor of Kansas. He is so much interested that he also has offered a cup. "Country Life in Canada," a beautifully illustrated magazine, last week carried two full pages in the front with illustrations, and there are dozens of others of equal importance.

All over the western states men are busy gathering exhibits to be sent here, and this is a tremendous advertisement. Even if the exhibitors do not come personally they will be looking toward this city for a month to come.

Another feature is that this is not all advance advertising of the city. If we put up a good exhibition those who do attend will be talking about it around the family firesides for the next year. Agricultural writers and press association men will be here in numbers, and the newspaper and magazine space that will be given the Congress for months to come will be of a character that money cannot buy.

The activities of this Congress have radiated a better-farming spirit throughout the world. It has even reached up to the President. In his Syracuse speech last week, the day after starting his western tour, Mr. Taft occupied the entire time in pointing out the necessity for better and more scientific farming. He is merely voicing what all the world is saying and thinking. This movement has come in the last five years, and for the present Colorado Springs is the center of activity and the focus of worldwide interest. If money can do it, her citizens should see that she proves worthy of the distinction and properly appreciative of the advantages it brings.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

To the Editor of The Gazette

In your issue of the 20th, the statement was made that I charged the churches and Sunday schools of Colorado Springs with being lacking in cordiality and social spirit. Permit me, in self-defense, to correct the statements attributed to me by your paper.

Attending the Sunday school meeting on Tuesday night I was requested, in the absence of Mr. Taitchill, to take his place on the program and speak on "Methods of Keeping Young Men and Women in Sunday School." In doing so, attention was called by me to the imperative need of young people for social work to be observed regularly by and for them. I stated that I thought our churches in general neglected giving attention to the social needs of young people and that in so doing a great mistake was made. Incidentally I mentioned one case, only, of a young lady who had attended Sunday school in Colorado Springs and whose reception was not cordial, that when she returned home she mentioned the fact to her father and said she had not enjoyed the service and felt very lonely. I then suggested the great possibilities for Sunday school workers here to make strangers and tourists feel at home and enjoy fellowship as they came into the Sunday schools and churches of the city.

In mentioning the case referred to it was used only to illustrate the point I was making—the need of cordiality and friendship inherent in the hearts of young men and women—and to suggest that if our Sunday schools and churches did not seek to answer that need we would lose many of them from our Sunday schools.

I made no sweeping charge against the Sunday schools and churches of this city, as your statement indicated. I did not say I had talked with a number of tourists in the Pike's Peak region who complained of the lack of social spirit. To me Colorado Springs is an ideal place. It is clean, quiet, restful. Its people are courteous, kind-hearted and helpful. It's a great church-going place and its Sunday school work is of the very best, and up-to-date.

So correct please what was said as coming from me. Too, my remarks on social work were general and applied with equal force to Dallas and to Texas as well as to Colorado Springs. Thanking you—I am an admirer of Colorado Springs.

FROM OTHER PENS

WHO NEVER CLIMBED, NEVER FELL

From the Providence Journal.

A Berlin correspondent finds that German opinion is shocked at the absence of sentiment among Americans discoverable in the report that the Olympia, Dewey's flagship at Manila, with three other victorious ships of the Spanish war, becoming obsolete, are to be surrendered at bargain prices to Turkey. "Germans would never part with relics so closely associated with the glories of battle," the correspondent is reminded. The report is not true, of course. Meanwhile it may be remarked that the Germans, who have just unloaded on the Turks several cast-off warships, have nothing in their collection calculated to create any sentiment because of the "glories of battle."

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT

From the Buffalo Express.

Cape May, N. J., has rejected the commission form of government. However, enough of the New Jersey cities are accepting it to demonstrate its worth.

From the Topeka State Journal.

Omaha is another city of goodly size that has seen the light and adopted the commission form of government. Let the good work go on.

From the Albany Evening Journal.

Thus far it hasn't occurred to Gov. Woodrow Wilson to attempt to explain why New Jersey citizens persistently vote down the commission form of government which he has advocated.

From the Omaha Bee.

Omaha's commission plan of government should be ideal if it turns on the number "seven," used so often in scriptures as the perfect number.

AGAIN FALLS FROM GRACE

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—"Pat" Crowe, sometime kidnaper, sometime preacher of the gospel, last night attacked a woman on Wells street. He was angered because the woman resented his attempt to flirt.

The woman, hysterical and bearing on her face the imprint of the man's fist, hurried home before the police learned her name. Crowe, beaten by men who did not sympathize with his "strong-arm filtration," was taken to a hospital and later to a police station.

Crowe achieved notoriety several years ago as the kidnaper of the son of Edward Cudahy, wealthy Omaha packer.

Sometimes ago Crowe became a temperance evangelist under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., but has several times fallen from grace.

FIRELESS COOKER TAKES PLACE OF AN INCUBATOR

WILLOWES, Cal., Sept. 21.—A fireless cooker has come to the rescue of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Piper of this place in sustaining life in their twin children born a day or two ago. Curled in separate compartments of this kitchen appliance, the boy, who weighed but two pounds at his birth and the girl who weighed three are sleeping their way to health when not receiving food by aid of a medicine dropper.

When the twins were born the doctors declared that an incubator was the only thing that could save their lives. Nothing of the kind was to be found in the vicinity, but the fireless cooker proved equal to the emergency.

SPRINGS AND CONGRESS ARE WIDELY EXPLOITED

One of the biggest advertisements that this city has had out of the Dry Farming congress so far, is the folder which the Union Pacific railroad company has put out. The first copies of it to reach the city came in yesterday, and were greatly admired.

The folder is on hard, white paper, made to go in a No. 1 envelope, printed in black with the Union Pacific shield in red and black. Forty pages are devoted entirely to the International Dry Farming congress and its allied organizations, to Colorado Springs and its attractions and advantages as a convention city, and to the routes to be taken in reaching the Springs from east and west over the Union Pacific.

The booklet contains photographs of President John H. Worst, Secretary-Treasurer John T. Burns, Executive Chairman C. R. Root and Chairman John Lennox of the board of control of the International Dry Farming congress. In addition almost every page contains a magnificent picture of some dry farming scene in Colorado or Wyoming. Pike's Peak avenue, Stratton park and a bird's eye view of Manitou and the Garden of the Gods from Crystal Park are also pictured in the booklet, which is easily one of the most artistic productions of the printer's art ever issued with reference to this city.

All Union Pacific railroad booklets are printed by the hundreds of thousands. They are distributed broadcast throughout America, and the value of publicity they give cannot be measured in money. Colorado Springs could not buy, at any price, the advertising which is thus given to the city through the fact that the International Dry Farming congress is to hold its sessions here next month.

is repeating his triumphs on the S and C. circuit.

A great comedy offering will be presented by Bob Watson and Edward Dwyer who won fame as comedians in various musical comedy productions and are adding to it in vaudeville. With capital singing and dancing in addition to their funny stuff, they are entertainers with a capital E.

More comedy of the rip-roaring sort is assured by the presence on the bill of Ben Smith, the original and unique dispenser of black face fun, whose stuff both pleases and amuses mightily owing both to its wit and cleverness and his inimitable manner. Peck and Henney, a mixed team, have a singing and dancing act that is individual and with Miss Henney's petite charm as an added reason it is sure to prove popular.

The Majestoscope motion pictures—another first run Rex film—and the concert orchestra program complete a bill which will be doubly enjoyable because of its widely different character from this week's.

POPULAR MAJESTIC

BILL CLOSES TONIGHT

The popular and diversified bill which has been entertaining all at the Majestic this week closes tonight, and those who fail to take advantage of this last opportunity to see it will have missed a treat. "The Widow and His Wife," an exquisitely funny sketch with the celebrated Florence Modena at the head of the company, is the big attraction, but there are plenty of others.

The Ferrell Brothers have a comedy cyclone act that everyone likes both because of the wonderful tricks performed, and the genuinely funny comedy; De Frates, the equilibrist, performs hazardous feats never seen here before which stamp him a master at that work. Elsie and Ishoo have a comedy musical act that is clever and unique, and the Du Pars have a neat and nifty dancing specialty. In addition the Majestoscope presents the Greater Colorado' Rex film, which is of special local interest because it contains scenes of Carnival week.

Performances at 2:30, 7:30 and 9:10. Admission only 10, 20 and 30 cents.

SFATS FOR BILLY CLIFFORD

"The Girl, The Man and The Game," a musical comedy feast (served in two courses) with Billy "Single" Clifford in the leading role will be the offering at the Opera house on Monday night only. The play is bright and breezy, full of ridiculous situations caused by Billy (as Charlie Pointer) who to get financial assistance from his rich Uncle Cattermole in the Philippines, tells him that he is married and has a baby daughter.

The rich uncle who is possessed of the globe trotting fever decides to visit his nephew, and the letter which was to inform them of his coming being delayed, he arrives very unexpectedly upon the scene; Billy just has to have a wife, so he borrows the wife of his friend to whose sister he is betrothed. Many are the complications which arise therefrom, but the merriest one is when the Uncle asks for the infant, Clifford having neglected to mention to his friends that he told Uncle he had a child also, once more his friend Dr. Motley is appealed to and whether for revenge at having to stand idly by and see his wife caressed by another or just out of a pure spirit of fun; the doctor produces the baby, but it is of the unbleached American type. This causes further complications, all of which keep Charlie in "hot water" all the time. The Doctor, showing weary of the deception goes to the French Ball and invokes the aid of Charlie to help him square himself for remaining away from home all night. As usual, Charlie makes a bungle of the explanation, causing a rupture between the Doctor and his wife. Finally finding that further elaborate lies are useless the Uncle is enlightened as to the truth of the condition of affairs and forgives all for their deception and all's well that ends well.

Seats will be placed on sale this morning. The prices are 50 cents to $1.50.

A Philadelphia judge declares that it is impossible to get justice in certain cases in that city on account of the poison of partisan politics. If he is telling the truth it is high time for the people to institute a reform.

EXPOSURES IN STOLYPIN MAY NEVER BE PUBLISHED

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 21.—Full exposure of the scandalous criminal intrigues in high governmental circles leading to Frontier-Stolypin's sacrifice are forbidden, says the Novoye Vremya, a patriotic newspaper. The paper says that only a mere fraction of the findings of Minister of Justice Chichagov, who is investigating the assassination of Premier Stolypin at Kiev can ever be published.

Only General Treppoff's prompt measures in throwing a cordon about the theater and directing the work of the secret police, says the Vremya, prevented the escape of Bogroff from the hands of justice. Colonel Kulikabko made a strenuous but unsuccessful attempt to have the prisoner kept at the secret police headquarters instead of in the fortress. Had Treppoff surrendered Bogroff to Kulikabko the paper declares few details of the crime would ever have become known.

The Inquiry into the assassination of Stolypin with particular reference to the revolutionary and police elements involved is being conducted personally by M. Chichagov. Greater sensations than those so far published are promised. The director of the department of police, Verigin, is under strong suspicion by the authorities who hold that he is in a measure responsible for the outrage.

Departmental Discord.

The protection of the emperor and empress and the cabinet ministers at Kiev formed the subject of departmental discord. Governor General Treppoff demanded general oversight of the protective measures but was overridden by the director of the department of police, M. Kulikabko. Treppoff then tendered his resignation which was not accepted. Kurloff, Verigin, Lieutenant Colonel Spiridonovitch of the secret service police, and Colonel Kulikabko, chief of the secret police, organized the protection, which cost $100,000.

While Verigin and Kurloff were at Kiev on the eve of the emperor's visit, Dmitry Bogroff was consulted and given the responsible position of guarding the premier as he promised to track up to the secret police headquarters, Dina Alexandrovna and Nicholas Jacobovich. It is incomprehensible to those engaged in the Inquiry how a subordinate, as Verigin, dared to disregard Stolypin's circular regarding revolutionary spies and allow Bogroff, a spy and an informer, to guard the premier without even setting other agents to watch him.

Verigin was Kurloff's right hand man and maintained close relations with Kurloff's family Kurloff, against Stolypin's most determined opposition, married the divorced wife of a young adjutant. Stolypin made the matter one of personal confidence to the emperor, but Kurloff's influential supporters at the court overruled the premier.

Trace Alleged Accomplices.

Many alleged accomplices have been traced to the revolutionary side and a vast number of arrests are being made throughout Russia. The police have been searching in vain in St. Petersburg for a Terrorist bearing the nickname of Herman, a domiciliary search has been made of the rooms of the correspondent of a London newspaper and his brother residing in the lodgings of the Liberal authoress, Mme. Tyrkova.

It was reported that Bogroff's father was arrested on the frontier while returning to Russia but a later report said that he was in Berlin.

Bogroff's parents on receiving the news of his crime addressed a telegram to Mme. Stolypin expressing abhorrence at their son's act. Bogroff's brother, who was held at the St. Petersburg secret police headquarters, has been transferred to the fortress. Bogroff's uncle, a physician, has been arrested at Odessa. Another Bogroff, also a physician, has been arrested at Batz.

Eighty men and 30 women, professing Liberals, are under arrest at Kiev.

TOO MUCH WORRY OVER DOG BITE CAUSES DEATH

CRIPPLE CREEK MINES

Special to The Gazette

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 21.—A rich strike has been made on the Peggy, a Gold hill property owned by the Peggy Gold Mining company, a close corporation, controlled by the Humphreys-Thomson leasing syndicate.

Recently, the claim, a fractional one, adjoining the Lucky Corner of the Doctor-Jack Pot company, the Mary McKinney mine and Work properties, was blocked out for leasing purposes, and the rich strike is the result of prospect work by former employees. At the 400-foot level an uprise was carried but a short distance, when values jumped skyward. Assays of 20 ounces gold, $400 to the ton, are common, and closely set down, the ore will make a smelting product. The subcuse is held by Lewis and company, who are sacking the high-grade ore for early shipment.

Clean-up on Old Mill Site.

Miners in the employ of the Midget-Bronzona Gold Mining company are sacking the tailings at the site of the Wishesome mill, and a shipment of the ore was loaded out this morning. The plant was destroyed by fire, and insurance was but recently adjusted. The ore is taken from the ground, where the constur and solution tanks were originally located. The mill, located in the gulch between Mineral and Carbonate hills, was connected up with the Midget mine by aerial tram, and a cleanup was to have been made by the mill operators when flames destroyed the plant.

Matos G. M. Co.

Lessees of the Stratton estate, operating the Half Moon mine, on Gold hill, owned by the Matos Gold Mining company, a corporation controlled by the Stratton estate, were shipping again today, and the property may again be classed as with the regular producing mines. An ore body of large dimension has been entered, and while the values at present obtaining are fair milling grade, this property has produced high-grade ore, and as the drift is carried north, a richer shoot may be developed.

Strike on Free Coinage.

A rich strike is reported made on the Wilson claim in the town of Altman, on the summit of Bull Hill. The property is owned by the Free Coinage Gold Mining company and is operated under lease. A few days since, a quarter interest in the lease was sold to Henry von Phul, former sheriff of this county, for $500, and the investment will be a profitable one. High-grade sylvanite ore has been encountered in the "black dike," and sacks were sent out to the mine this morning. This means high-grade smelting ore, but the parties interested decline to discuss their prospects.

NEW YORK MARKET

CHICAGO MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Wall street spent another uneasy day in watching the spectacular slump in the securities of the United States Steel corporation. Trading in the steel stocks dominated the market. Widespread reports that dissolution of the corporation was impending, coupled with yesterday's severe decline seemed to have aroused the fears of investors. Selling orders from all parts of the country and from abroad flooded the market. That force was irresistible.

The low price of the day for the common was 58, a decline of 54 points, and the lowest figure since 1909. The preferred fell 64 points to 104, a lower price than had been reached since 1908.

Trading in these stocks reached enormous proportions. The common was sold in lots of 1,000 to 6,000 shares. Largely by reason of this selling the day's transactions amounted to 1,254,000 shares, the largest total for the year, and of this the sale of United States Steel was nearly one-half, 527,000 shares.

Conjecture ran wild as to what was in store for the Steel corporation.
